

EasyScore

Baseball scoring made easy

EasyScore is an easy and intuitive way of getting data from your baseball scoresheets into your computer. EasyScore automatically computes box scores, game logs and game and season statistics, based on data you entered with a couple of clicks of your mouse.

At the core of EasyScore: An easy and simple interface

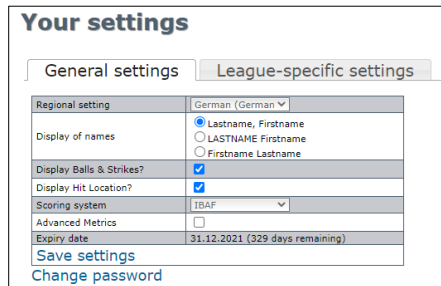

Actions are recorded by clicking on the corresponding base in the active field, or in the center area to record an out. A context menu will appear, asking you to indicate the action. Every action is saved instantly, so that you can reload the page in your browser without losing your data.

Customize your experience

You can customize your scoring experience by changing different settings like scoring system (IBAF or DBV), recording balls and strikes, indicating hit locations or enabling Advanced Metrics for pitch type, speed and location.

Follow games from everywhere

EasyScore lets you post your games online as they happen, enabling everybody around the world to follow the game you score online in realtime.

Tons of stats

EasyScore provides fans, coaches and media with plenty of stats to digest. Statistics can be split up into categories for leaders, or as sortable and filterable data tables.

You can also export all your stats into any format you like, and you can even customize which statistical categories you want to include in your export. And this for season totals, for game totals or just a single player.

Send updates to Twitter

Keep your followers updated with regular tweets during the game. Customize your tweets to be sent after every play, every half-inning or only after the game has finished.
